The Department of Educational Leadership graduates communities of learners ready to lead in educational and organizational settings. As scholar-practitioners, our future leaders inform their professional practice with theoretical knowledge to be transformational leaders. Our graduates are committed to leading with mind, hope and heart. Guided by the values of discernment, continuous improvement, care of the whole person, social justice, democratic ideals and service to others, the educational leadership department is dedicated to cultivating future scholar-practitioners.